I am Lara, an international horse photographer from Switzerland.

My goal is to make people happy with my photos and to give them high-quality memories of their time together with their horses. I have been spending time at the stables myself for as long as I can remember, so I have developed a keen sense for horses. A fair and harmonious relationship with the horse is the most important thing for me. Together with a lot of patience and an eye for detail, this results in unique and creative horse pictures. If you would like professional photos to decorate your home or for your business, then I am the right person for you.

I live with my partner and our two cats in Düdingen near Fribourg in Switzerland. I also have a young Franches-Montagnes gelding called Cantico.

In a nutshell, here's what you should know about me:
I like iced coffee, concerts and indie music, books, tattoos, houseplants, typography and art history, northern countries, the mountains, ponies, cats, analog cameras, summer and thunderstorms..

My photos tell the story of an endless love for horses.

La Luna print collection

Without intending to do so, the motif of the moon has been a recurring theme in my pictures over the years.

What impresses me about the moon is that it doesn't matter what shape it is, it is beautiful and never fails to inspire me.

If you have a picture like this in your home, it should remind you that you too are always beautiful, just as you are, and that it's okay to change.

Some personal thoughts

Horses have been part of my life for as long as I can remember and through photography I have finally found a way to express my love for them in some way.

With every purchase, you help me live my passion and tell more stories of horses around the world.
